

Pamela S. Gockley

Unscripted, Unleashed, Unfazed

What do you get when you cross Tony Robbins with “I Love Lucy?”

A half-pint dynamo named Pam Gockley who blends her own energetic business acumen with the situational comedy of TV’s original funny lady!

Standing only 5 foot 3, Gockley might be short in stature but she’s long on the ability to listen, observe, motivate, challenge and translate the nuances of today’s ever-changing business trends in a humorous voice that leaves your audience entertained, informed and educated.

Using amusing anecdotal illustrations from her own experience to make her points, Gockley guides business owners and leaders through a fast-paced session of laughter and learning about how businesses and individuals can earn, protect, and capitalize on their good reputations, leading to customer referrals and sales growth.

Keynote Speaker or Moderator for: Conferences, Seminars, Workshops, Webinars, or Podcasts

Who seeks out Pam’s insight?

Trade Organizations, Chambers of Commerce, Non-Profit, Colleges, Universities, Corporations, Business Owners
Human Resources, Customer Service, Sales, and Marketing
Entrepreneurs and Business Executives

Subjects: Motivation and Leadership, Customer Service, Sales, and Marketing.

For more information about having
Pam speak to your group
Contact Us Today!

“I found Pam to be honest, a straight forward thinker & a person who would look through all the clutter and help me to see things in a much clearer light and also truthful enough to tell me about it. What I really liked about Pam, she is a professional from outside my business with a wealth of knowledge in other areas, I was overlooking.”

-- Missy Lengle

Director of Business Development

Contact Us Today

Call 610.916.3652 or email: Booking@PamelaGockley.com

Reputatus Learning is based on The Reputation Factor® Training Program